Carrigan really is so smart. During the campaign, we watched a LO CNN (of course we have blocked Fox News from all televisions since don't want Carrigan to be influenced by that filth). While we didn't Carrigan was paying attention, during the DNC convention, she asked "where did he go?" and Jeff said, "who honey?" Carrigan said "there Barack Obama" just as the soon-to-be-President came back into can view. Amazed, Jeff picked up a Newsweek magazine from the table.
